

MAN, WOMAN INDICTED IN PRISON FARM BREAK

MEETING OF W. & A. COMMISSION CALLED

Jack Livingston and Edna Smith Charged With Aiding Aubrey Smith and Others.

Gathering Friday Expected To Lend Impetus to Building of $2,000,000 Structure.

Jack Livingston and Edna Smith, held in an investigation of the escape of Aubrey Smith, notorious gangster; Louis Stephens and Monte Wilson from the state prison farm, were indicted Tuesday by the Fulton grand jury on charges of aiding in the escape of Smith and harboring the three escaped convicts. An additional indictment charged the pair with attempting to aid the escape of Leiland Harvey, bandit who is held in the jail here, from the Sumter county gaol.

One of the indictments charges Livingston and the Smith woman with mailing to Aubrey Smith a sealed fruit can containing a pistol and saw blades, while another indictment alleges that they attempted to aid the escape of Harvey in the same manner on July 16. Separate indictments charge the pair of defendants with harboring Smith, Wilson and Stephens, who escaped from Milledgeville on July 26.

Jack Livingston was indicted for the robbery on August 7 of Joe L. Williams, of 423 Boulevard, who was robbed of $50.

Bond for Livingston was fixed at $10,000, and for the Smith woman at $5,000 by Solicitor General John A. Boykin, who has been in personal charge of the prison break investigation at the request of the state prison commission.

THREE INDICTED FOR TAKING CHILD FROM HER FATHER

Henry Osteen, Edith Osteen and Mrs. A. N. Mitchell were indicted Tuesday by the Fulton grand jury on a charge of taking Florence Cain, 14, away from her father, Henry Cain, of 608 McDonald street, last Friday. Witnesses told the grand jury that the Osteens and Mrs. Mitchell, relatives of Cain's divorced wife, took the child when her father was away from home, but were overtaken at Griffin and the child recovered by Cain. Cain has had custody of the child for four years, ever since the divorce, although no formal order of custody was ever handed down, it was said.

Announcement Tuesday by Governor L. G. Hardman of a call for the first meeting of the special Western & Atlantic railroad commission created by act of the 1929 legislature indicated the probability of early action on the proposed erection of a $2,000,000 office building and cold storage plant in Atlanta. The meeting will be held at 10 o'clock Friday morning in the state capitol.

The construction project, planned by the United States Cold Storage & the site of the old Western & Atlantic station in this city. The commission is authorized by legislative enactment to negotiate an extension of the lease for a period not exceeding 30 years beyond the term of the present lease to the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway, which expires in 1960 and will revert to the state if not renewed. Under the new act, however, any extension made by the commission will not affect the rights of the present lessee during the remaining 40 years of possession.

Extension of the lease was declared to be necessary in order that the warehouse company might arrange for financing the structure over a period of years long enough to amortize the cost of construction and insure a reasonable return on securities involved in the transaction. Plans and specifications for the new building probably will be worked out as soon as the lease negotiations are completed.

Besides Governor Hardman, who is acting as temporary ex officio chairman, the members of the commission are C. Murphy Candler, former chairman of the public service commission; Justice H. Warner Hill, of the Georgia supreme court; Judge W. Frank Jenkins, of the court of appeals; W. D. Anderson, president of the Bibb Manufacturing Company; H. T. McIntosh, editor of The Atlanta Herald; C. K. C. Ausley, Thomasville, and C. W. Martin, Dalton.

MAYOR RAGSDALE ASKED TO ATTEND LAUNCHING OF SHIP

Mayor Ragdale Tuesday received an invitation to attend the launching of the U. S. S. Houston on September 7 at Newport News, Va. Governor Moody, of Texas, heads a delegation of prominent Houston businessmen which will pass through Atlanta Thursday, September 7, en route to Newport News to witness the ceremonies. Plans for their entertainment here are being made by Mr. Ragdale.

Mayor Ragdale Tuesday expressed doubt that he would be able to attend the occasion.

TOWER CROWDED, PROHI DEFENDANTS DRAW LIGHT BONDS

Crowded conditions at Fulton Tower were said to be responsible for leniency in the matter of fixing bonds by United States Commissioner Griffith during the past few days, he having made several substantial reductions to allow defendants to post the surety and stay out of jail pending trial. Willie Burke, Estelle Gans and Louise Turner all had this experience Tuesday when their bonds were reduced from $1,000 to $700 in the case of the first two and from $500 to $200 for the latter. They were given preliminary hearings on dope charges Monday.

JAMES P. FAULKNER TO BECOME PUBLIC WELFARE DIRECTOR

James P. Faulkner will succeed Dr. Conrad M. Woodward as executive director of the state department of public welfare, it was learned Tuesday at the state capitol. The change is to become effective about September 1, when Dr. Woodward will return to his regular post as dean of men at Emory university.

Mr. Faulkner is at present managing director of the Georgia Tuberculosis Association. He has long been connected in health and welfare work, having been elected a director of the American Tuberculosis Association last year.

Dr. Woodward has been holding the directorship temporarily since last fall when Miss Rhoda Kaufman retired because of ill health.

Furnishings Delay City Hall Opening Until January 1

The new city hall at Washington and Mitchell streets will not be ready for occupancy before January 1, it was estimated by Howard McCutcheon, chairman of the special city hall committee, Tuesday.

The delay in occupying the new municipal administrative quarters is due to the fact that a major portion of the equipment and furniture must be made to order. Construction work is so far advanced that the structure will be completed in about 30 days. Chairman McCutcheon stated Tuesday that he expected to advertise for bids for equipment and furnishings next week, and that about three months will be required for delivery after orders are placed.

U. S. Revenue Bureau Gives $28,688 Refund To Mrs. J. J. Goodrum, Jr.

The internal revenue bureau at Washington Tuesday announced a refund of $28,688 to Mrs. Mac Adams Goodrum, widow of James J. Goodrum, Jr., on taxes paid on the estate of her husband, who died here June 4, 1928, leaving approximately $1,000,000.

The refund includes abatement of $14,128; credit of $5,141 and refund of $9,419.

Of the over-assessment the bureau announced, $27,221 was due to an administrative error whereby duplicate assessment was made and the balance of $1,467 was caused by a reduction of the amount of capital gain reported from the sale of certain shares of capital stock.

Mr. Goodrum was a vice president of the Atlanta and Lowry National bank and the Trust Company of Georgia. His widow, who was the sole beneficiary to his estate, lives at 33 Eleventh street, N. E.

Activities of Importance In Life of Southern Deaf To Feature Meeting Here

Largest Attendance on Record Planned for Three-Day Convention,
Opening Thursday.

Activities of prime importance in the life and organization of the southern deaf are expected to feature the three-day convention of the Dixie Association of the Deaf, opening Thursday morning at the Ansley hotel. The gathering is planned to be the largest of its kind ever held in the south, according to announcement by local officials.

Plans for establishment of a home for the aged and infirm deaf of the south and for fostering the creation of bureaus for the deaf in connection with the Georgia department of labor and other departments of labor in southern states are expected to receive close attention at the business sessions of the convention, with the result that definite action will be taken on these matters.

Other items affecting the organization of the deaf of this section and its relation to national associations will be included on the business program. An elaborate entertainment program in conjunction with the three-day sessions has been arranged to enliven the gathering and provide amusement for friends accompanying the large group of delegates.

Reception Tonight.

Prior to formal opening of the convention, a reception will be held at 8 o'clock tonight on the Ansley hotel roof garden. The first business session will open there at 9 o'clock Thursday morning with invocation by the Rev. J. W. Michaels.

Mayor L. N. Ragsdale will deliver

J. M. ROBERTSON.

an address of welcome and present the key of the city to J. M. Robertson, of Raleigh, N. C., president of the Dixie Association of the Deaf. Other speeches welcoming the deaf residents from all sections of the south will be given by J. N. Woolly, president of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce, and J. M. Stallings, president of the Georgia Association of the Deaf. Responses will be made by Mrs. A. W. Pope, secretary of the Florida association, and Odie W. Underhill, president of the North Carolina School Alumni association.

An address by President Robertson will conclude the morning session. Other addresses of the first day, coming in the afternoon will include "A Dixie Federation of the Deaf" by George W. Veditz, president of the Colorado Association of the Deaf, and formerly president of the national association, and "Advance D. A. D." by L. B. Dickerson.

"It is planned to make this the greatest convention of the silent folks the south has ever seen," according to a statement made public Tuesday by J. H. McFarlane, of Talladega, Ala., member of the executive board. An index to features of the program is found in the objects of the Dixie association for advancement of the deaf of the south spiritually, socially and industrially," he stated.

Religious Service.

"A union religious service to be participated in by members representing all leading denominations of this section will be held at the Baptist tabernacle during the convention. Prominence in the program will be given another object of the association in plans for founding a home for the aged and infirm deaf of the south."

"In line with still another object of the association will be the discussion of establishing a bureau for the deaf in connection with the department of labor in each of the southern states where such a department exists. At present North Carolina has the only bureau in the south which has a labor bureau for the deaf, and the results accomplished in that state through the instrumentality of the bureau justify its duplication in other states," Mr. McFarlane said.

Officers of the Dixie association, every one of whom will have an active part in the convention, are Mr. Robertson, president; Percy W. Ligon, Atlanta, first vice president; Mrs. H. K. Bisk, Richmond, Va., second vice president; Mrs. C. L. Jackson, Atlanta, secretary; Herbert R. Smoak, Union, S. C., treasurer; the Rev. J. W. Michaels, Mount Airy, Ark., general organizer, and the following executive board members: J. H. McFarlane, Talladega, Ala.; O. G. Garrett, Pender, S. C.; and Mrs. J. C. Bishop, Atlanta.

CHANGE IN NAME OF DAHLONEGA SCHOOL VETOED

Governor Hardman Tuesday afternoon vetoed a bill passed by the general assembly changing the name of the North Georgia Agricultural college at Dahlonega to the Georgia State college.

He explained his action by pointing out that the change in name would confuse the college with the Georgia State College of Agriculture at Athens and that the revision of the charter of the institution might affect federal aid now given the school.

Trustees of the institution were opposed to the change, the governor stated.

STATE OPENS MURDER TRIAL OF 16 STRIKERS

Charlotte, N. C., August 27.—(AP)—A brief court session this morning to conclude hearing of defense motions and examination of state witnesses in private by defense attorneys this afternoon were the outstanding activities in superior court proceedings involving charges of murder against sixteen Gastonia cotton mill strikers and leaders for the death of O. E. Aderholt, chief of police of Gastonia.

Court officials today hoped to get under way tomorrow with the selection of a jury and hearing of evidence. Two hundred veniremen have been summoned for possible duty on the jury.

At this morning's court session, Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount, assigned by Governor C. Max Gardner to conduct a special term of court, overruled a motion of the defense for an amended bill of particulars.

"I will intimate," said the judge, in overruling the motion, "that it is the purpose of this court to limit the (evidence) to conspiracy about the grounds where the shooting occurred."

Approximately 85 state witnesses appeared at the Gaston county courthouse today for the defense examination.

The defense attorneys conducted their examination in private but in the presence of prosecution attorneys.

The defense excused 37 of the state's witnesses without questioning.

New York Banker Plans Big Estate In South Georgia

Albany, Ga., August 27.—(Special.)—William C. Potter, president of the first $2,000,000 bank in the United States through the merger of the Guaranty Trust and the National Bank of Commerce, two leading New York financial institutions, has purchased 15,000 acres of land near Albany, on which he intends to build a winter home and establish a magnificent estate and game preserve. It was announced here today by Tift & Price, Albany real estate agents handling the big deal.

The tract of land purchased by Mr. Potter begins at a point six miles south of Albany, on the west bank of the Flint river. Part of it is directly across the river from Radium Springs, the million-dollar investment of Barron G. Collier, on which is located the famous Radium Springs golf course. The tract bought by Mr. Potter is composed of land from the Wilson place, the Brown place, Mrs. P. H. Jones' place, 2,000 acres of the United Pecon Company groves, Seiver place, McKellar place, Simon place, Cortatowsky place, Whitehead place, Davis place, Roberts place, Kieve place and Bentley's park.

Mr. Potter has announced his intention of not only building a handsome winter home on his new estate, but he will raise papered pecans and farm crops common to this section. Much of the land will be used for a game preserve. It will be the first elaborate estate to be established in this immediate section.

Mr. Potter states that he was attracted here by the delightful and even climate. Radium Springs also attracted his attention because of the amusement features offered by the famous resort. The Potter estate includes Wilson's springs, one of the beauty spots of this section.

SENATE TO CONFIRM FARM BOARD MEMBERS

Presentation of Body to
for Next Week.

Washington, August 27.—(AP)—The names of the eight appointed members of the federal farm board are expected to be presented to the senate for confirmation next week and administration leaders are prepared to fix a time promptly for their consideration.

Under the law, senate approval of President Hoover's selections is necessary before the commissioners' salaries may be paid, but their official acts are valid under their recess appointments, which have been dated June 15.

Representative leaders of the various groups in the senate have expressed the opinion that all of the board members probably would be confirmed without great delay. Some senators, however, have announced a desire to question them regarding the program they intend to set in motion for the relief of agriculture.

The board is made up of nine members, but Secretary Hyde serves ex officio and it will be unnecessary for the president to submit his name. Although the other eight members at first will serve for varying terms, all appointees hereafter will serve for six years. Each will receive $12,000 a year.

To Present Legge.

The president will present Alexander Legge, who is chairman of the board, for only a one-year term in compliance with an arrangement between the two before the appointment of the former head of the International Harvester Company was decided. Likewise, the term of C. C. Teague, of California, will run for only one year. Teague at first declined to serve at all, but later consented to an appointment for one year.

Carl Williams, of Oklahoma, will receive the only six-year term permitted under the law at this time. The five-year term will be given to James C. Stone, of Kentucky, who, in the opinion of some officials and farm leaders, is likely to succeed Legge as chairman. At the time Stone's name was under consideration, he indicated that he was reluctant to serve in any capacity except chairman, although he did consent to become vice chairman.

Wilson To Get Term.

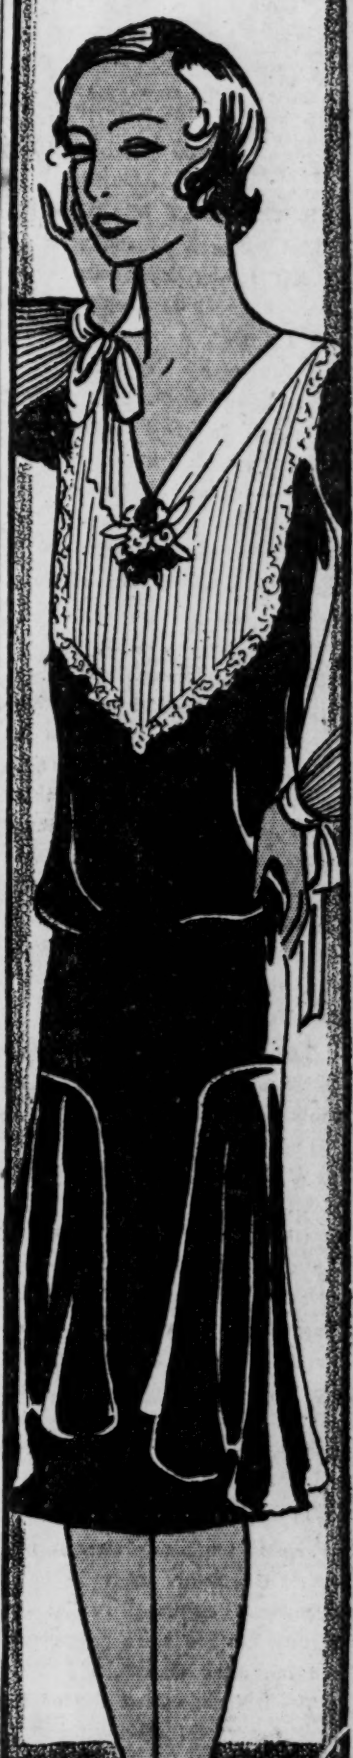

The single four-year term available at this time will be given Charles S. Wilson, of New York, and the only three-year term will go to C. B. Denman, of Missouri. William F. Schilling, of Minnesota, and Sam P. McKelvie, of Nebraska, will be presented for two-year terms.

Chairman McNary, of the senate agriculture committee, to which the nominations will be referred, has said he would invite the commissioners to appear before the committee if there is any request that they do so.

Among the senators who have indicated they would like to question the commissioners is Brookhart, republican, Iowa, who said he desired to develop the reasons which prevented an earlier formation of the wheat marketing stabilization corporation. He is not a member of the agriculture committee but doubtless would be permitted to ask questions if the board members were heard in public sessions.

GEORGIA PRESS BODY GATHERS AT TOCCOA

More Than 200 Newspapermen and Women at Annual Convention.

Toccoa, Ga., August 27.—(Special.) The three-day convention of the Georgia Press Association got under way tonight with more than 200 Georgia newspapermen present. A short program at the high school auditorium that featured addresses of welcome by prominent Toccoa citizens and an address "The Newspaper's Responsibility to the Public" by Henry T. McIntosh, of the Albany Herald, served as preliminary to the convention. The annual program, written by D. G. Bickers, poet laureate of the association, was read by Mrs. John Hodges, of Perry.

Mrs. Mary Jarrett White, on behalf of the D. A. R., Mrs. John Crawford, on behalf of the Georgian Club, of Toccoa, and Mrs. W. E. Thornley, on behalf of the Parents' Teachers' Association of Toccoa, welcomed the delegates.

Wednesday morning prominent Georgia editors will discuss newspaper problems and at noon the editors will be honor guests at a barbecue served at Lavonia by the board of trade. Wednesday afternoon will be devoted to discussion of newspaper problems and history by "Uncle Jim" Williams, of Greensboro, who will talk from a veterans' viewpoint, and Albert Hardy, Jr., of Gainesville, who will speak as a younger member of the editorial profession.

Wednesday evening Dr. S. V. Sanford, of the University of Georgia, will speak on "Educating Editors, Young and Old."

Bishop Warren A. Candler, senior bishop of the Methodist Church, South, will deliver the principal address at the night session. Thursday the association will elect officers for the next year and a trip will be taken to Wallalla, Westminster, Seneca and Clemson college, across the South Carolina line.

Thursday morning, Richard Reid, Mrs. Nora Lawrence Smith, of Ashburn, and Quinton Melton, editor, Griffin Daily News, will be the speakers who will precede the annual address of Miss Emily Woodward, president. The closing session will be Thursday night with stent night program.

Freeport, Ill., August 27.—(AP)—Freeport today observed the seventy-first anniversary of the historic second Lincoln-Douglas debate here by unveiling a bronze statue of the orator on the spot where the debate took place.

Among the thousands who crowded Taylor park to witness the unveiling and listen to the speeches were nearly 100 who stood on the same spot August 27, 1858 and heard the debate between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas, then United States senator from Illinois. They heard propounded for the first time Lincoln's principle of popular sovereignty which came to be known as the "Freeport doctrine" and which was to form one of the planks in the platform which resulted in his election to the presidency two years later.

The old timers were accorded a place of honor in the front rows of the outdoor amphitheatre erected for the unveiling ceremonies. Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, delivering the principal address, called attention of the American people to the ideals of Lincoln for the solution of problems confronting the nation today.

He warned against the possibility of an economic slavery, which he declared constitutes as real a menace now as the enslavement of negroes did at the time of the Lincoln debate.

BOND BUYERS BALK AT PAR PURCHASE OF COLUMBUS ISSUE

Columbus, Ga., August 27.—(AP)—After an announcement by City Manager Henry R. Crawford that no bid of less than par and accrued interest would be considered bond buyers late yesterday declined to submit offers for a $355,000 issue of municipal improvement bonds.

Representatives from Atlanta and New York bond houses said they would like to purchase the issue, but declared that prevailing conditions in the market due to the high interest rate on call money made bids of par "impossible."

It will be necessary to re-advertise the bonds, city officials said.

PRIVATE IS AWARDED U. S. MEDAL OF HONOR

Washington, August 27.—(AP)—The war department today announced the award of the congressional medal of honor to Private Michael Valente, formerly of Company D, 107th Infantry, 27th division, for gallantry in action against the Hindenberg line in France, September 29, 1918.

Valente, who lives at Long Beach, N. Y., was cited for volunteering to go forward when his organization was held up by a withering enemy machine gun fire. Disregarding his personal danger, he, with another soldier, rushed a machine gun nest, killed two and captured five of the enemy, silencing the gun.

The department also announced the award of the distinguished service cross to former Private James McInerney, Battery F, 107th Field artillery, 27th division, for extraordinary heroism in action in France, October 15, 1918, as was announced. His next of kin was his father, Albert M. Beattie, Norwalk, Ohio.

THREE OF CREW IN SAVANNAH JAIL ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Savannah, Ga., August 27.—(AP)—With no official report made to the United States district attorney here today, the three members of the crew were committed to jail today by a United States commissioner pending action by the government.

The cutter that brought the cargo of liquor in has gone back to join the fleet outside. Under what authority the boat was seized is not known here yet. The entry at the jail shows that they are committed for the alleged violation of the liquor smuggling act of 1925. It is expected that a report will be submitted shortly and a preliminary hearing held following this. The boat is of British registry.

WEST POINT ROAD PAVING FINISHED; OPEN IN 3 WEEKS

Columbus, Ga., August 27.—(AP)—Paving of the West Point highway has been completed and the thoroughfare will be opened to traffic in about three weeks, it was learned today.

With the completion of this road the paving of the six highways in Muscogee county, begun in 1920, is now finished with the exception of a four and a half mile stretch on the Macon road. Work on this section was suspended last fall by the state highway department because of lack of funds.

Under the program started in 1920 the Hamilton, Cusseta, Beuna Vista, Macon, Talbotton and West Point roads have been paved, representing a total mileage of 66.8 miles. The total paved mileage in the county outside of the city is approximately 74 miles. The roads were paved as a result of a bond issue of $1,650,000 voted by the people of Muscogee county August 31, 1925.

AIRPLANE SMUGGLER OF LIQUOR CAPTURED

Border Rum Runner Held. Dozen Airports Revealed Along Border.

Windsor, Ont., August 27.—(AP)—The use of airplanes to smuggle liquor across the border was revealed today in the capture of a Michigan pilot and his machine.

Authorities said they had learned that a dozen "airports" scattered along the lonely stretches of the Canadian shore of the Detroit river had been used by airplane rum-runners who switched their landing from one field to another to avoid constables and farm folk.

The airplane rum-running industry has not been confined to any one combine, customs men said. Adding that outfits have been flying out of Essex county with liquor consignments for American destinations.

One of the airplanes has been identified as a visitor from Wisconsin, indicating the extensive ramifications of the smugglers of the Great Lakes region.

Rufus Baumgartner, 27, of Plymouth, Mich., was the pilot arrested by a Royal Canadian Mounted police officer, two local constables and two members of the Canadian customs service at Windsor.

The pilot was captured down river near the LaSalle export docks. The officers hid near the isolated field. A truck loaded with 33 bags of whiskey drove up shortly before the airplane swept across the Detroit river and glided to rest a few yards from the officers in ambush. The officers arrested the smuggler after three bags of contraband had been stowed in the plane.

PROMINENT LAWYER OF ALBANY DIES IN N. Y. HOSPITAL

Albany, Ga., August 27.—(Special.) Mr. W. C. Story, wife of a well known farmer, was drowned in Saliers Mill creek, near Americus today, when she threw herself into the stream from a small bridge near the Story home.

Phillip Jennings, living in the same neighborhood, observed Mrs. Story in an apparently dazed condition a short time before the woman's body was seen in the water, but no one saw her plunge into the water.

Her husband told authorities later than Mrs. Story had been suffering from a mental disorder during several months and that she probably was unaccountable for her acts. The body was discovered by Henry Story, a brother of Mrs. Story's husband, who found the corpse lodged under a log in the shallow water near the bridge.

THE GUMPS—THE CURSE OF AN ACHING HEART

THE HAWK

By ROY VICKERS

BY ROY VICKERS

Douglas Doring, a young British peer, is sent to Dartmouth prison on the perjured testimony of Celia Seddon, an unscrupulous woman who is in love with him and whose advances he has refused. In revenge she testifies she saw him kill a policeman during a night club raid.

Doring is a famous aviator, but to keep this knowledge from his mother and spare her worry he has been using an assumed name—Douglas Harris. It is under this name that he is tried and convicted.

While the courts are at work in a quarry Douglas finds a tobacco tin containing a mysterious, unsigned note telling him he will be rescued the next day by a furniture van. He follows directions and escapes.

INSTALLMENT III.
THE PURSUIT IS ON!

The crack of the carbine, though he had expected it, dazed him. He crouched, swaying, one knee on the seat beside the driver. The carbine barked again, and his courage left him. He was not afraid of the bullet, but all zest and confidence had vanished. It was madness to try to escape in a furniture van, of all tomfool contrivances. How Warden Spelman would laugh when they dragged him back!

"Inside, man," a voice was shouting. "Wake up, Doug, for God's sake!" From within the van a hand and then another hand had gripped him. Partly lifted, he clambered on to the seat and allowed himself to be dragged into the interior.

"You're all right, Doug!" He was on his feet in the interior of the van, now gathering speed. Coming from the blinding sunlight, he seemed to be in total darkness. He could hear voices, but could see nothing.

"Keep your feet still and strip." A hand steadied him while he mechanically obeyed and ripped off his tunic and shirt. Slowly they came to him the feeling that he was in capable, disciplined hands. The voice of the man in charge was the voice of an army officer.

A shirt was thrust over his head and invisible hands began to dress him. They were growing less invasive each second as his eyes became accustomed to the light. The van swerved violently. There was a faint concussion on the outside, then a metallic crash—and on again.

"You're all right, Doug. We'll get you out. Just do what you're told."

"Three minutes!" The timekeeper was somewhere behind him. The other men were engaged in dressing him. His feet were thrust into heavy walking shoes and were being laced up when there came again the crack of a carbine. The work went on in silence. He was pushed into a chair. Then a cover was thrust over him with a tight fitting elastic band that gripped him round the throat. The next moment a hot, soapy lather was being applied to his face.

"In George in sight?" asked the man in the corner.

"Fifty yards behind," came the answer.

"Give George his signal."

"George answers." Then the timekeeper:

"Five minutes!"

A man lurched heavily across him as the van swerved and then, with a grinding of brakes, came to a dead stop.

Never in the history of Dartmouth prison had an escape been attempted in such obviously hopeless conditions. Even blind chance, it seemed, joined the forces of law and order to load the dice still further against the fugitive. For it was surely nothing other than pure chance that brought the governor, with his distinguished visitor, to the gates of the prison at the moment when Doring leaped on to the van.

The governor disliked distinguished visitors on principle, because they generally meant a subsequent correspondence dealing with absurd criticisms. Every distinguished man in the world, he had discovered, believed himself to be an ideal prison governor. The criticisms invariably fell under one of two heads—that he was brutally severe or that he was sentimentally lenient.

This particular visitor was not even a man of affairs, but, apparently, a distinguished connoisseur of the arts who had somehow endeared himself to the home office.

"My dear sir, what is that?" cried the distinguished visitor as Warden Haskins fired.

"It's quite all right—they always fire wide," answered the governor and held up his hand—but for the moment the line of vision was broken by a large lorry following the furniture van. Warden Haskins had fired a second time before the governor shouted: "Cease fire, there!"

"Two hundred and seventy-one jumped on that Hartock's van, sir," cried Haskins.

"Don't fire again. There are too many people about. Cease on," ordered the governor, and at the same time set his stop watch. He turned to his visitor: "An attempted escape. I am afraid. It's most unfortunate that we should have disciplinary trouble during your visit, Mr. Mallerton."

Twenty seconds later the alarm was given and the warders began to hurry their gangs back to the cells. A car containing four armed warders swung on to the road, flanked by three more warders on motorcycles.

"My dear sir, I perceive you will be busy. Thank you very much."

"As a special favor to me, Mr. Mallerton, would you mind staying to see this through?" said the governor emphatically. "Frankly, the public have a rather distorted idea as to what really goes on here. An independent witness of your standing at this moment is a godsend."

"Certainly, my dear sir. But I hope I shall not have to witness anything at all—er—er—"

"It's because I know you won't see anything horrible and because I hope you won't see anything slack that I ask you to stay."

Trickily the governor led the way to his office.

"That poor fellow is an educated man—they don't fit in very well here," he explained. "He has not, of course, the very smallest belief that he will really escape. It's a nervous outbreak—which I'm sorry to say it will be my duty to punish. I give him ten minutes of liberty at most. As a matter of curiosity, I get my stop watch just now—we will see exactly how many minutes will have passed before it is all over."

As they entered the office he answered the unspoken question of his secretary. "One of Martock's furniture vans—headed for Tavistock."

The secretary picked up the receiver of the telephone.

"Urgency call. Tavistock police station. . . Is that you, superintendent? Spending for the speaker. A man has jumped on one of Hartock's furniture vans heading for you. He may have frightened the driver into helping him. Blow the road, please, and challenge all cars. . . You've got enough men there, I suppose. Superintendent. . . Thanks. Good-by."

The governor motioned his visitor to a chair and while his secretary was setting through picked up the house telephone.

"Has the mounted patrol started, Renshaw?"

"Seven have started, sir," came the answer. "The other four are still with the gangs."

"You will observe, Mr. Mallerton," said the governor in the tone of a lecturer, "that I am treating this little breach of discipline as if it were a genuine escape. You have heard me take the necessary measures to block the road. I am now going to assume that all these measures will prove inadequate. . . Larkin, get me Colonel Bickersteth. Plymouth—on an urgency call, I'll speak to him myself."

Fifteen seconds later the clerk handed him a receiver.

"Hello, Bickersteth. We've had an escape—three minutes ago. Could you send a plane over with a trained observer? . . . Thank you very much."

With a leisurely stride the governor crossed his office and unrolled a large ordnance map of Dartmoor and district.

"You might care to look at this, Mr. Mallerton," he remarked.

"This is indeed an experience," said Mallerton as he approached the wall map. "It has its artistic side, if I may say so. The unruffled efficiency of this office, my dear sir—"

"Here," interrupted the governor, "is the prison. This road leads to Tavistock, roughly eight miles away. The road is none too good. A first class car could hardly average 30 miles an hour. That is to say, it takes at least 16 minutes to reach Tavistock. Against that, the Tavistock police can block the road at four minutes' notice."

"That surely disposes of Tavistock?"

"There are the cross roads at the other end of the village of Princetown—I have a patrol there. Against the extremely small chance of his being able to lead across the moor to one of the other roads—as you see, there are roughly five exits. I have blocked each of them. In the meantime the moor is being scoured by men on ponies."

"To say nothing of the airplane," put in Mallerton. "Modern science, dear sir."

"We have to consider in this case a furniture van—a slow moving vehicle, but heavy. Suppose it were to rush the cordons successfully at Tavistock? Whether it turns north, east or west, it cannot reach even a fair sized town in less than half an hour. The motor car has made very little difference to Dartmoor."

"And the furniture van?" asked Mallerton.

"O! Ha! Ha! Still less, of course! The prisoner has been at liberty for five minutes—unless he has already been recaptured."

Body of Senator Tyson Taken to Knoxville Home Attended by Senate Group

Semi-Military Funeral Will Be Held Today With Elaborate Ceremonies.

Knoxville, Tenn., August 27.—(AP) The body of Senator L. D. Tyson lay tonight at his home, where it was taken after arrival with his widow and daughter from Pennsylvania this afternoon.

An honorary congressional committee of six senators and a representative accompanied the funeral party. Five other senators were expected for the semi-military funeral tomorrow. Mrs. Tyson rejected proposals that the body lie in state, believing the honors to be paid tomorrow by soldiers who fought with her husband in the Spanish-American and World Wars were sufficient. She went to the Tyson home with her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Gilpin. Both were with him when he died Saturday in a Stratford (Pa.) sanitarium.

of the body. Twelve army reserve officers, all service associates of Senator Tyson, filed down to the two funeral cars. Six of them lifted the casket and carried it to the hearse past the other six, who stood at attention. A relatively small crowd was present.

After a brief pause at the station for newspaper photographers, the party went directly to the Tyson home. Tomorrow's ceremonies will be elaborate. The body will be removed to St. Johns Episcopal church, which Senator Tyson attended. After services at 2 p. m. by Bishop Thomas F. Gailor, of the Episcopal diocese of Tennessee, and by the rector, the Rev. Walter C. Whitaker, it will be taken in a military procession to Old Gray cemetery. The hearse will be preceded by some 150 Spanish-American War veterans, members of the American Legion post here, four national guard companies and reserve officers.

Civil Ceremonies.
In the lot where the body of Senator Tyson son, McGhee, Tyson, also lies, Senator Tyson's body will be buried with civil services, a rifle salute by national guardsmen and taps by a bugler. Similar services were accorded McGhee Tyson years ago, when his body was returned from the English flying field where he was killed in training for naval aviation service. When the son died his father was serving as a brigadier general in France, and refused to leave his brigade, then in action, when news came of McGhee's death.

Senator McKellar acted as host to his colleagues. Because of the occasion of the visit, an automobile ride and informal dinner at hotels tonight were the only arrangements made.

HIGHWAY EMPLOYEE KILLED BY DIPPER OF STEAM SHOVEL

Bainbridge, Ga., August 27.—(Special.)—Eugene Jolly, 35, employee of the state highway department, lost his life Monday afternoon when the dipper of a steam shovel closed on him while in a pit of earth that he had just inspected.

Knowing there were no more trucks to be loaded Jolly sat down in the excavation. A driver, in getting on the shovel accidentally started the machinery which swung the dipper to the pit. Before witnesses could warn Jolly he was crushed beneath the heavy machinery. Although medical aid was given immediately death occurred in a short time. The remains were shipped to Elbertville, Ala., on the midnight train. His widow and two small children survive.

"BUSINESS ETHICS" SUBJECT OF TALK MADE TO LIONS

Dr. Witherspoon Dodge, chaplain of the Lions Club, was principal speaker at the weekly meeting of the club Tuesday at the Henry Grady hotel. He spoke on "Business Ethics."

As a feature of the meeting each member brought a business competitor to the luncheon. The evolution of business ethics, Dr. Dodge stated, "will find every business engaged in only that kind of work which has a value for society; he will ask only a reasonable profit for his services; he will prepare himself thoroughly so that he may render a maximum amount of efficiency; he will be courteous; he will limit his competition by methods of fair play and good sportsmanship, and he will co-operate to save all needless waste and to promote the spirit of good will."

Wild West Show Here on Sept. 9 With Jack Hoxie

Indians and Cossacks, cowboys and Bengalese, vaqueros and foreign cavalry, bronchos and elephants—these are some of the 1,100 people and 600 animals coming to the Highland avenue show grounds on Monday, September 9, for two performances, matinee and night. Jack Hoxie, famous western film star, and his wonder horse Scout are added attractions with the 101 Ranch Real Wild West and Circus, which, it is claimed, boasts the only circus parade of magnitude in America. This famous show, the largest of its kind, past or present, has added a new spectacle, "Julius Caesar," this year.

The 101 Ranch carries a spread of canvas that will crowd the acreage of the regular circus lots in the great cities, as the big top is 540 by 300 feet—said to be 39 feet longer than any other tent ever built.

Unusually large wild west and rodeo displays alternate with far eastern novelties, and Miller Brothers, owners of both the famous 136,000-acre 101 Ranch in Oklahoma and the show, have spared nothing to make this year's performance an epochal one. Performances are given at 2 and 8 p. m. The parade, all new, leaves the lot at 10:30 a. m.

ROCKDALE COUNTY "FIRST BALE" SELLS FOR THIRTY CENTS

Conyers, Ga., August 27.—(Special.)—Rockdale county's first bale of new crop cotton was sold here today, bringing 30 cents a pound. J. C. Cronan, whose farm lies in the southern section of the county, grew this cotton, which is graded middling with 1-16-inch staple.

The bale weighed 464 pounds and was bought by W. O. Mann, local buyer, for the Milstead Manufacturing Company. In order to encourage Rockdale farmers to plant a better variety of cotton with at least one-inch staple, a plan was adopted here several years ago by the Milstead company whereby a planter could secure selected cotton seed from them at actual wholesale cost. This company brought here several carloads of pedigreed seeds and as a result cotton now grown in Rockdale county is noted for its good staple and spinning value.

DEKALB SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPT. 9; 2 NEW BUILDINGS

Decatur, Ga., August 27.—(Special.)—The DeKalb county school system will open on September 9, it was announced here today by Superintendent W. M. Rainey.

Two new school buildings in the Druid Hills district will be occupied for the first time. All students of the Druid Hills district will go to the new high school building, while pupils residing north of Peachtree creek will attend the new W. D. Thomson school building. This applies to grades from one to six, inclusive. Pupils of the Willey, Montreal and Caldwell schools will be transported to the new Tucker school by buses, while the seventh grade will be taught at the West Side school instead of being taken to Central High school as last year. Pupils of the Oak Grove school below the seventh grade will attend the W. D. Thomson school.

SIMMONS MAY ASK FOR BARGE LINE ON EASTERN COAST

Washington, August 27.—(AP) Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, told the board of rivers and harbors today he intended to urge congress to adopt a policy toward the Atlantic coast inland waterway system similar to that carried out on the Mississippi river where a government-owned barge line is operated.

The senator said he would propose a similar barge line to be operated by the government between Boston and Jacksonville through the canals and waterways now being maintained by the government. The North Carolina senator was before the board in connection with a proposal for an 8-foot channel on the Cape Fear river between Fayetteville and Wilmington, North Carolina.

GIRL'S DEATH OPENS LEGAL QUESTION ON DIAMOND RING

Chicago, August 27.—(AP)—Death has rolled the dice which Thomas A. Kelly, San Mateo, Cal., rancher, will win or lose today.

Under Kelly's will his two Chicago nieces, Miss Hazel Stirling and Miss Iris MacPherson, were to decide with dice who should get a $2,700 diamond ring from his estate. Word from California today, however, told of Miss Stirling's death there after a year's illness.

Attorneys were uncertain today whether the ring would go to the surviving niece or whether the administrator of Miss Stirling's estate might name another to shake dice with Miss MacPherson for the ring.

ALVIN RICHARDS SEEKS NEW ALDERMANIC POST

Former 6th Ward Councilman Announces Candidacy for 13th Ward Position.

Alvin L. Richards, 48 years old, a former councilman from the sixth ward, Tuesday announced his candidacy for alderman in the new thirteenth ward. Mr. Richards is a lawyer, with offices in the Fourth National bank building, and lives at 960 Drewry street.

ALVIN RICHARDS.

Mr. Richards has lived in Atlanta 28 years. He enlisted in the army at Carrollton in 1898 for service in the Spanish-American war. After a trip to Cuba and the Philippines he returned to Georgia in 1900 and settled in Atlanta and has resided here since.

He is a member of the board of deacons of the Druid Hills Baptist church, a Mason and a member of a number of clubs and fraternal organizations.

"My only platform is one of honest and conscientious service for my own district and the entire city," Mr. Richards said in entering the race.

A warm race for the three councilmanic seats to be added by creation of the thirteenth ward was seen in city hall circles Tuesday, with the names of more than seven Atlantans mentioned as possible candidates. Under the terms of the bill creating the ward, it is provided that the newly created councilmanic seats shall be filled by vote of the people at the annual city election the first Wednesday in December, the delegation to take office the first Monday in January, 1930.

Ellis D. Barrett, new councilman from the fifth ward; Robert M. Cobb, Jr., now a councilman from the ninth ward; Frank Hooper, attorney, and a former Fulton county representative in the legislature; W. C. Jenkins, former city councilman; R. E. L. Reynolds, secretary of Atlanta Elks lodge; Parks Rusk and E. Stevens are among those spoken of as candidates.

Two men thought to have been responsible for spreading counterfeit bills over a large portion of the southern states were arrested in Charleston, Mo., Tuesday as a result of information given out by G. H. Brodnax, head of the local secret service bureau, according to word received here.

Two bogus bills alleged to have been passed in Marietta Thursday night led to the arrest of the men, it was stated, while two more bills, apparently manufactured from the same plates, were delivered to Mr. Brodnax Tuesday afternoon. One had been discovered in Rome, and the other in a local bank.

The suspects were traced from here and when arrested had $700 in counterfeit bills in their possession. They refused to give their names or to offer any explanation, it was said.

Mr. Brodnax is of the opinion that all the money is part of that which was distributed by some gang as they made their way north from Cuba.

FEW FACULTY CHANGES IN SCHOOLS THIS YEAR

1929-1930 Will Witness Fewer Shifts Than Ever Before, H. Reid Hunter Says.

The task of making up faculties and assigning teachers, which is done on the basis of registration of children by their parents, is consuming the time and attention of H. Reid Hunter, assistant superintendent of schools, and Miss Mary Postell, elementary superintendent, who is assisting him, as the opening of schools draws near. Mr. Hunter is acting as superintendent during the absence of Willis A. Sutton.

Although there are 30 new classrooms in the new schools there will be fewer faculty changes than ever before, according to Mr. Hunter. High school faculties will remain intact and new school buildings will greatly minimize the administration's problems for the ensuing term, Mr. Hunter stated.

Miss Allie B. Mann, recently elected president of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' Association, will take office with the opening of this new school term September 9. In addition to being head of the science department of Girls' High school she is a classroom teacher of long experience. Miss Mann is a graduate of Goucher college, received a master's degree at Emory university and has done graduate work at University of Colorado, Harvard, and University of Chicago. She is a member of Phi Sigma, honor fraternity. Some years ago Miss Mann presented the bill for the equalization of salaries in the high schools.

Serving with Miss Mann in her new duties are the following newly elected officers: W. J. Scott, first vice president; Miss Lamar Jeter, second vice president; Miss Lucile Nolan, third vice president; Miss Ira Jarrell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. B. Whitworth, financial secretary, and E. L. Floyd, treasurer.

COUPLE REVEALS SECRET MARRIAGE LAST FEBRUARY 16

The secret marriage on February 16 of Miss Bettie Hanson, Commercial High school junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hanson, of 518 Peoples street, to William Sherman, of 408 North Boulevard, was revealed Tuesday.

Mr. Hanson, a prominent lawyer, announced that his daughter had told him of the marriage Monday night. The couple drove to Griffin and succeeded in persuading officials there not to publish the news of their marriage. Mrs. Sherman continued to make her home with her parents and finished the school term at Commercial High.

12-MONTH TERM GIVEN DEFENDANT IN ASSAULT CASE

Eason McCoy, 35, was sentenced to 12 months on the chain gang Tuesday by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court, when convicted of a charge of assault and battery on P. F. Davis, 69, of 230 Carroll street. The state charged that McCoy entered a paint store where Davis was employed and demanded point on credit. When Davis declined to meet the sale and referred McCoy to the owner of the store, the defendant struck Davis over the head with a chair, the injury resulting in paralysis of both arms for Davis, the state alleged.

Miss Lillie Wellborn To Wed Felix Edward Rapp Sept. 19

Miss Lillie Wellborn, whose engagement is announced today by her father, Walter Dent Wellborn, to Felix Edward Rapp, o. Atlanta, formerly of Bremen, Germany. The marriage of Miss Wellborn and Mr. Rapp will be quietly solemnized Thursday, September 19. Photograph by Alta Lomax studio.

The announcement made today by Walter Dent Wellborn, of Maxwellborn, Ala., formerly of Atlanta and New Orleans, of the engagement of his daughter, Lillie Wogan, to Felix Edward Rapp, of Atlanta, formerly of Bremen, Germany, is of wide social interest throughout the south. The bride-elect is a representative of aristocratic southern families, her mother, the late Mrs. Wellborn, having been before her marriage, Miss Lillie Wogan, of New Orleans, a member of one of Louisiana's pioneer families. on the new fall frocks are longer in effect than in actuality.

Give Fashion an inch and she'll take several! In this much-discussed matter of the proper length of the new frocks, for example, Fashion has apparently made several decrees.

The important thing, as we see it at Allen's, is to adjust the length to the individual. There is a becoming length for everybody — and, if you take two inches more gracefully than three, then that is the proper length for you.

Bryan Grant Sweeps Through Second Round of State Tourney

WILMER HINES BEATS FEUER; GAULT LOSES

Al Halverstadt and Other Atlantans Fall by Wayside.

By Herb Clark
In the feature match of the day's play in the state tennis tournament yesterday, Wilmer Hines, of Columbia, S. C., eliminated Gus Feuer, of Miami, Fla., 6-1, 10-8.

Hines easily ran out the first set, losing but one game when Feuer's service was exceptionally powerful.

Feuer staged a comeback in the second set, and broke through Hines' serve to lead at 5-3. Hines, serving the ninth game, was weak, and Feuer had match point at hand when Hines tightened to win that game, break through Feuer's serve, and win his own next game to lead at 6-5. Feuer deuced the match at 6-6 and the battle went on, with games going with the service, to the point where Hines led at 8-5. Hines played beautiful tennis in the final game to win at 10-8.

HALVERSTADT LOSES.
Feuer, who, with Maurice Bayon of New Orleans, arrived early Tuesday morning, advanced to the second round by a 6-3, 2-6, 6-2 victory over Al Halverstadt, of Atlanta.

Bayon was also inserted in the bracket in place of a draw, and won his first match from Jack Morris, of Atlanta, 6-1, 6-1, and went into the third round by defeating Jimmy Beaver, of Gainesville, Ga., 6-4, 6-2. Bryan Grant, the defending champion, had little difficulty in disposing of Preston Chambers, of Atlanta, winning at 6-1, 6-3. Grant meets Rabun Monroe, of New Orleans, in what should prove to be one of the best matches on this afternoon's card. Monroe advanced over Tommy Phifer, of Columbia, S. C., 6-2, 7-5.

Other favorites in the tourney were also powerful enough to survive with little difficulty, with the exception of Harry Gault, of Atlanta, who fell before R. D. Little, of Tuscaloosa, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1.

FEATURE MATCH
Today's program will be featured by the match between "Lefty" Bryan, of Chattanooga, and Maurice Bayon, Bryan dropped but two games in winning his way to the third round, defeating Wesley Martin, 6-1, 6-1. Bryan and Bayon met in the southern tourney at New Orleans some time ago, with Bryan coming out on top after a hard battle.

Favorites in the junior and boys' divisions were also still in the fight at the end of the second round. Wilmer Hines, defending champion in the junior division, had little trouble with George Dennis, of Atlanta, Tuesday afternoon, and won 6-2, 6-0. He meets Rex Jordin, who eliminated J. D. Rippers of Tuscaloosa, 6-2, 6-4, this afternoon. "Lefty" Bryan, who is expected to oppose Hines in the finals in the junior meet, advanced by a 6-1, 6-3 victory over S. M. Seitz, of Atlanta, and faces Ben Smith of

Bobby Jones Praises Pebble Beach Course

Finds It True Test of Championship Golf But Believes Par Not Invulnerable.

Del Monte, Calif., August 27.—(AP)—Pebble Beach links, Del Monte, Calif., next week will provide a magnificent setting for the greatest amateur golf tournament in the history of the game, Bobby Jones, who will defend his title in the forthcoming United States amateur championship, declared today.

CRAX WIN IN 14TH, 3-2

the plate and held the Crakers at bay most of the time.

"Doc" Silva played an important part in the victory. He ran for Haley in the ninth, stole second base and scored on Battle's hit to center. He then played center field during the remainder of the game with Cullip on first base and Battle on third. In the fourteenth he walked, went to second on a perfect sacrifice and scored on Battle's two-base swat to centerfield.

Williams, Traveler second baseman, was carried from the field in the eighth inning with a badly sprained ankle. He stumbled and fell as he ran from third base into home on a safety to right field. He tried to make it back to third base but fell before reaching the bag and the game was called for a few minutes. He will be out of the lineup several days, it was learned Tuesday night. McLeod replaced him and was one of the bright spots in the game for Little Rock.

Little Rock drew first blood when a run was pushed across the plate in the second inning. Rose tripled to right center and scored on McDaniel's right center. Another was scored in the eighth. Nicolai singled to right field. Williams hit to Kiefer and Nicolai was forced at second. Oliver singled to left field and Williams went to third. Rose singled to right and Williams fell between third and home plate when his ankle was turned. He attempted to make it back to third base and fell before reaching the plate. Oliver attempted to run on to third base and was out in a chase while Rose took second on the play. Williams was carried off the field by his mates and McLeod ran for him and played shortstop. Nicolai went to second base. Brooks came through with a single to center that scored McLeod for Little Rock's last run.

Atlanta scored its first run in the fourth. Lee singled past second base. Parham doubled past third base and Lee scored by some good base running. Atlanta squared the count in the ninth inning. Haley singled after Cullip had grounded out. Silva ran for Haley and promptly stole second base. Jones grounded out and Silva went to third. Oldham batted for Kiefer. He walked and stole second. Battle singled to center and Silva scored but Oldham was out at the plate Oliver to Whitney as he tried to score from second base with the winning run.

It was three-up and three down for both teams in the tenth and eleventh innings. Atlanta had an opportunity in the twelfth but it was nipped in the bud by a great throw from center field by Oliver, who doubled Silva at the plate after catching Lee's fly. Neither team had runners on the bases on the thirteenth and Little Rock was retired in order in the fourteenth after which Atlanta

Jones praised the course, scenery and climate at Pebble Beach sufficiently to please even the most exacting "native son."

The Atlanta found the Pebble Beach course a true test of championship golf, although he believes par will not be as invulnerable as local enthusiasts have claimed, and expects to see several of the leading players venture into the late sixties during the next few days.

The bent putting greens bothered Bobby a bit on his first few holes.

Most new arrivals comment on the difficulty of judging distances on Monterey peninsula courses, and Bobby said so too. But to those who watched him place his shots with apparent unerring accuracy on his very first round, it would appear that Jones must have been referring to inches instead of yards.

After his initial circuit Jones was asked which hole he considered the most difficult test of golf at Pebble Beach.

"The chasm eight," was his answer. "Cyril Hay, British amateur champion, thought the tenth the hardest. Today agrees with Jones that under favorable wind conditions a 67 or 68 is not impossible at Pebble Beach. Today thinks that 117 will be good for medal honors in the qualifying round."

Bobby Denies "Talkie" Offer.
Del Monte, Cal., August 27.—(AP)—Bobby Jones, national amateur golf champion, today denied a report published in San Francisco that he had been offered $50,000 to appear for two weeks in motion pictures.

"Calamity Jane" Fails; Bob Has 73.
Del Monte, Cal., August 27.—(AP)—The 73 stroke record for the Pebble Beach course where the national amateur golf championship will start next Monday was broken late today in practice by Dr. Paul Hunter of Pasadena, while Robert Tyne Jones, amateur champion, could only equal the former mark.

Playing in a foursome with Jones, Jack Neville and George Von Elm, Dr. Hunter equaled par of 72 for the first time in the history of the course. Jones missed five putts of less than five feet in making his 73.

Dr. Hunter's spectacular playing and consistent work of his teammate, George Von Elm, enabled them to beat Jones and Neville 3 and 2.

Hard Luck King.
Max Bishop has been out of the Athletics' lineup three times this season.

He won the extra inning ladies' day game.

The final game of the series will be played this afternoon at 3 o'clock and Manager Good's pitching selection will probably be Clinax Blithen.

Manager Steele had not decided on his moundman to end the season here for Little Rock.

TILDEN, HUNTER SWEEP ASIDE DOUBLES FOES

Three American and Two Foreign Teams Enter Quarter Finals.

By William R. King.
Brookline, Mass., August 27. (AP)—The tail-end seeded teams on both the American and foreign lists today met with disaster in the second round play of the 48th national doubles championship here on the Longwood turf courts.

Fritz Mercier, Bethlehem, Pa., and J. Gilbert Hall, Orange, N. J., the domestic fourth, were eliminated by mid-western youngsters, W. F. Coen, Jr., of Kansas City, and Harris Coggeshall, Des Moines, Iowa, while the equally ranked British team, E. P. Avery and E. M. Buzzard, both of Oxford university, was being put out by F. X. Shields, New York, and Donald Strachan, of Philadelphia.

ONLY TWO UPSETS.
These two matches were the only upsets of the day, though several other pairs, notably Johnny Doeg, of Santa Monica, Cal., and George M. Lott, Jr., Chicago, escaped drubbings by scant margins.

When the second day's volleying ceased, the first three American teams and the two top-ranking foreign pairs were safely in the quarter-finals brackets.

Young Coen and Coggeshall, his equally youthful partner, staged a stirring stand in turning back Hall and Mercier in an extra set match, 6-4, 11-13, 7-5, 7-5. Avery and Buzzard lost by scores of 3-6, 1-6, 4-6, to Shields and Strachan.

Lott and Doeg had to play five sets before they vanquished Kenneth Apple, Orange, N. J., and Bradshaw Harrison, of Tacoma, Wash. The scores were 6-3, 2-4, 4-6, 10-8, 6-3.

VETERANS WIN EASILY.
Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, the 1927 champions, were seeded third, had an easy session with A. W. Jones and G. W. Ingraham, of Providence, defeating them in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1. H. W. Austin and J. S. Oliff, the top-seeded British pair, went into the quarter-finals by besting George O'Connell and Fred Royer, of Chicago, 11-9, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2, and Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, the victorious Davis cup doubles pair, gained a bracketed from David Jones, of New York city, and Richard Murphy, of Utica, N. Y., by defeating them, 6-2, 6-2, 7-5.

Eighteen of the 26 mixed doubles teams went into action and the only seeded pair to fall was Miss Marjorie Glendon, of Santa Barbara, Cal., and Van Ryn. They were defeated by Miss Penelope Anderson, of Richmond, Va., and Gilbert Hall in an extra set match, 3-6, 9-7, 7-5.

Three British teams advanced when Mrs. Phoebe Watson and J. S. Oliff, Mrs. Shepherd Barrow and Norman Farquharson, and Mrs. B. C. Covell and Bunny Austin, won their matches against American combinations in straight sets.

WOMEN OWNERS' 'ROW' IS SETTLED BY GOOSE EGG

Mrs. Whitney's Racer Beats Field at Saratoga for Title.

By Orlo L. Robertson.
New York, August 27.—(AP)—A verbal argument was settled by the flying hoofs of Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney's Goose Egg today as the sensational two-year-old filly from the Greentree stable romped off with the initial running of the Lady Owners' handicap at Saratoga.

The victory of the gallant homebred daughter of Chic and Oval, settled for at least the time being, the argument as to what member of the fairer sex owned the fastest two-year-old in training at the Spa. Although packing the high weight of 124 pounds, Goose Egg had little difficulty in turning back such great juveniles as Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt's Desert Light, and Mrs. T. J. Donohue's Hold, out for the first time. Desert Light ran second and Hold third in the five and one-half furlong dash.

The stake event of the day at the Spa—the Kentucky for two-year-old fillies—went to George D. Widener's Shady Lady, which has developed into a classy little runner. H. B. Swope's Cursey, a long shot, was only a nose behind for the place while Sun Flow finished a head behind the Swope entry to take down the short end of the purse, which was $4,125 to the winner.

Jolly Roger, the seven-year-old 1928 steeplechase champion from the Greentree stable, made his 1929 debut in the Herculeid but ran third to Tourist II and Huffy as the track record of 4:12 for the about two-mile course was equaled.

Jockey C. E. Allen gave the five-year-old Royal Julian one of his best rides today and the veteran runner from the W. H. Whitehouse stable carried off the honors in the Kankakee purse that feature the card at Lincoln Fields. Excelsior, from F. S. Page's stable, was a close-up second and Apple Banyan third.

Royal Julian stepped the heavy mile in 1:42 3-5 to win $1,150 for his owner.

Japanese Wrestling Purest of All Sport

Participants, In Addition to Grappling, Must Purify Opponent's Mind—Baseball Popular.

By Ben Cothran.
Wrestling, ancient sport long associated with whispered conversations in the backroom and oft accused of being more crooked than otherwise, is, in one part of the world, purified.

This startling news is brought back from Japan by Francis W. Clarke, managing editor of The Constitution, recently returned from a five-month tour of the Orient with a group of outstanding American newspapermen sent there by the Carnegie Peace Foundation to study eastern conditions.

While in Tokyo Mr. Clarke attended one of the matches in the national championships and made his amazing discovery of what is going on in the ranks of wrestling.

Japanese matmen are bulky, even more so than their American brothers. They put on as much fat as possible and in a highly cultivated state bulk up to 350 and 400 pounds. They face down on agility but greatly increase ability for butting which, according to one informant, is the main thing in the racket outside of the purification.

The actual throwing—or butting over—of an opponent never takes over a minute. The time is consumed in purifying one's opponent.

The two wrestlers, devoid of any semblance of clothing save breech cloth, enter an irregular ring, outlined by a low ridge of earth. With vigorous, creaking movements the opposing behemoths bend over with fingers touching the crowd and paunches in that immediate vicinity. They face each other, silent, staring, forbidding. One will make two, three lunges at the other, then slowly arise, step out of the ring, take a drink of water, return with a pinch of salt in the forefingers and scatter it upon the ground. This latter action, according to the ancient and honorable tradition, purifies the ring of everything not dealing with the vanquishing of one's opponent, which is accomplished when one's hands or knees are forced to the ground or one is butted out of the ring.

They settle down again. No wrestler makes a move toward the other until he is completely convinced that he has cleared his opponent's mind of any mundane thoughts, until both are imbued with the great ideal—to defeat the other.

This can continue indefinitely, with innumerable trips to the water bucket and with huge quantities of salt being scattered in the arena. It is indeed an uplifting sport and something worthy of America's attention.

BASEBALL.
But intellectual and uplifting pursuit of sport hasn't captured the Japanese entirely. Baseball has become the country's avowed recreation. And the race, popularly supposed to be a phlegmatic people, not entirely given to undue demonstration, raises more hullabaloo over the outcome of an ordinary baseball game than an average

MACON RIFLE TEAM TAKES SHOOT HONORS

Arthur Ferguson Wins Junior Event; Two Others Win Places.

Camp Perry, Ohio, August 27.—(AP)—Arthur Ferguson, 17, of Macon, Ga., today won the class A prone match of the junior rifle corps, opening event of the National Rifle Association's annual program here.

Ferguson had a score of 294 out of a possible 300. He defeated 43 rivals between the ages of 15 and 18 years. Milton Miller, 16, of Columbus, Ohio, tied Ferguson but lost out since Ferguson had the best score on the last relay of the match. Lemmel Clark, 18, of Macon, Ga., was third with 292. Emmett Casson, 16, Macon, fourth and Felix Kamicki, 17, of Birmingham, Ala., fifth. Both shot 291 but Casson outranked Kamicki on the last relay.

Georgia Teams Ready To Go.
BY A. C. LANKFORD.
Camp Perry, Ohio, August 27.—(Special)—Winds off Lake Erie had the Georgians here hugging their blankets and missing breakfast yesterday. Two members of the civilian team from Georgia stayed in bed until nearly noon when the sun warmed things up.

The mess hall here is run on the cafeteria plan and is a popular place the food being good. Nothing, however, could get the boys out for the long stand in the chow line.

The small arms training has been completed according to schedule. Actual firing will begin on Thursday and both Georgia teams are eager to go.

There are more than three thousand competitors here and some two thousand of them are in the small arms school. One is able to see most any sort of team. They are here from the stock exchange and the Hawaiian islands. The large identification emblems on the back of the shooting jackets make it possible to recognize any team. The Georgia National guard team has the outline of the state with the word, "Georgia" inside it. The colors are red, white and black. The Georgia civilian team is the same with the exception that the colors are blue and white and the numerals "1929" are under the name of the state.

"Let us be friends," said Tarzan. "You cannot kill Akut," replied the other. "None shall be king but Akut." For answer the ape-man hurled himself upon the great brute, who during this conversation had slightly relaxed his vigilance. In the twinkling of an eye the man had seized the great ape's wrist, whirled him about and before the other could grapple leaped upon him.

Down they went together. Slowly Tarzan brought that awful pressure to bear upon the neck of the beast. "Ka-goda," whispered Tarzan to the ape beneath him. In the language of the apes it meant, "Do you surrender?" Akut thought of the creaking sound he had heard just before Molak, the king's neck had snapped, and, shuddering, he struggled to free himself.

But of a sudden a torturing pressure upon his vertebra brought an agonized "ka-goda" from his lips. Tarzan relaxed his grip and Akut rose slowly to his feet. Shaking his bullet-head and growling angrily, he waddled toward his tribe. Presently the whole pack moved off into the jungle, leaving Tarzan, sore from the many wounds inflicted upon him, alone once more upon the beach.
